

Register of Harm Prevention Charities – Application for deductible gift recipient applicants

When to Use This Application

Complete this application if your organisation is applying for endorsement as a deductible gift recipient under the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) category Register of Harm Prevention Charities (item number 4.1.4). The example answers are provided to help you answer the questions and are not prescriptive.

Register of Harm Prevention Charities (the Register)

A harm prevention charity is an institution that as its principal activity (its main activity) promotes the prevention or control of human behaviour that is harmful or abusive to human beings. Behaviour means one or more of the following: emotional abuse, sexual abuse, physical abuse, suicide, self-harm, substance abuse, harmful gambling.

The institution must be registered with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC) as a charity and must have endorsement as a Tax Concession Charity from the Australian Taxation Office. The institution's public fund can either be operated by the institution or it can be a registered charity. If it is a registered charity it will also need to undertake the same steps as described above.

Harm prevention charities listed on the Register must actively seek donations of money or property from the community and actually receive them in order to maintain their tax deductibility status.

❖ For more information about the Register of Harm Prevention Charities refer to the fact sheet, guidelines, instructions, explanatory notes and legislation at <http://www.dss.gov.au>

If your organisation does not qualify as a Harm Prevention Charity, check the ATO guide GiftPack to see if another category applies.
